DETAILED ACTION

Priority

An updated status of parent application SN 09/853,406 in the specification is requested.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 17-19 and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by White et al (US 5,829,453). White discloses a cigarette having low-density tobacco fillers. The tobacco rod comprises tobacco with an inhibitor/attenuator, ammonium bicarbonate (see col. 4, lines 28ff). It is reasoned that since the whole length of the tobacco rod has the claimed inhibitor/attenuator it would thus be inherent that the inhibitor/attenuator would be at a location of the tobacco rod where a smoke constituent is maximized.

In regards to claim 18-19, the claimed aldehyde/formaldehyde is a combustion by-product present in tobacco smoke and inherently is reduced by the presence of ammonium bicarbonate since it is the same active chemical used by applicant to reduce said aldehydes.

Claim 20 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hayden et al (US 5,109,876). Hayden discloses a cigarette having a cigarette wrapper with carbonic acid, a synonym for the claimed ammonium bicarbonate (col.6, lines 28ff).

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 17-21 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 3-5 of U.S. Patent No. 6,701,936. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because claims 3-5 recite the addition of an inhibitor/attenuator, ammonium bicarbonate, at a rod location wherein the smoke constituent is maximized and wherein the remainder of the cigarette is substantially free of the inhibitor/attenuator, which thus reads on the instant broader claims 17-21 not claiming the remainder of the cigarette is substantially free of the.

Art Unit: 1731

It is also noted that the publish patent US 6,701,936 omits the examiner's amendment, and the certificate of correction by applicant correcting said omission, which notes that the inhibitor/attenuator is ammonium bicarbonate. For examination purposes, claims 3-5 are being read as having the Examiner's amendment and as noted by the certificate of correction by applicant correcting said omission.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. References B and D have been cited to show the state of the art.
